Overview

Daisy Feehan is a lawyer in our Edmonton office with a focus on professional regulatory law, privacy law, and labour + employment.

She received her Bachelor of Science in Chemistry and Psychology from Vancouver Island University in 2016 and received her JD from the University of Alberta in 2020. During law school, Daisy was involved with the Mental Health and Wellness Committee, where she focused on supporting law students. Daisy also competed in two national moots, where she honed her oral and written advocacy skills. These moots lead Daisy to her role as a Writing Fellow for the UAlberta Law Legal Research and Writing course in 2019-2020. Before and during her JD, Daisy worked with a solo practitioner where she gained experience in interviewing and mediation.

Daisy joined Field Law as an articling student in September 2020 and was called to the Alberta Bar in September 2021.

Outside the Office

Daisy enjoys gardening, small building projects, taking care of her mother's dog and spending time with her family.
