Overview

As Field Law's Manager of HR and Administration, Holly Dreger is responsible for the direction and management of human resources functions and day to day operations of the Edmonton office. She oversees payroll and benefit administration for Edmonton, Calgary and Yellowknife.

As a member of the senior management team, Holly is responsible for recruitment and retention, successful onboarding, ongoing professional development, coaching and performance management of legal support professionals.

Holly has worked in the legal industry for 25 years and served as management for 15. Her work in both the public and private sector has provided her substantial experience in understanding the business of law. She is currently a member of Edmonton Law Office Manager Association and served on the Executive in 2017. Holly is also a Certified Executive Coach through Royal Roads University. As a solution focused individual, she uses her coaching skills in all areas of her work to access insights, strategies and solutions.

Outside the Office

Holly has a rich family life. She spends time with her family doing various activities and enjoys the arts.
