Overview

Jenn Hadden joined Field Law in June 2006, starting out as legal assistant and eventually becoming a paralegal in the Wills, Estates + Trusts department in October 2013.

Jenn enjoys the challenge of drafting estate planning documents, including wills, enduring powers of attorney and personal directives, to reflect the varied wishes of each individual client. Jenn also assists with the preparation of estate administration documents including applications for probate and administration, ensuring that they contain all the information needed to satisfy the ever-changing requirements of the Court.

Both estate planning and estate administration can be areas of a sensitive nature and Jenn deals with clients delicately and calmly as she assists them through either process. With Jenn's experience and her eagerness to please, she works effectively and harmoniously with the wills, estates + trusts lawyers to provide clients with documents that meet their specific and often complex estate planning needs.

Jenn regularly attends LESA seminars to build on her knowledge and keep her skills sharp.

Outside the Office

In her free time, Jenn enjoys cooking, fitness activities and spending time with family and friends.
