Overview

Jeremiah Kowalchuk, the firm's managing partner, is experienced litigation counsel, having represented clients before all levels of court in Alberta and in the Federal Court. Jeremiah focuses on commercial litigation, shareholder disputes, corporate governance, construction, real estate disputes, and debt recovery, regularly representing medium to large companies as well as owners, contractors, and engineers.

Jeremiah represents and advises clients in many areas of law, including general litigation, corporate and commercial issues and disputes, and transactional work. This includes:

- Private lending arrangements and security implementation
- Purchase and sale of businesses
- Land and property development
- Condominium development and sales
- Franchise system development and implementation
- Arbitration and mediation

Before being elected Managing Partner in 2019, Jeremiah served on the firm's Executive Committee for 2 years and is the past chair of the firm's Litigation Practice Group. Jeremiah uses his broad experience to help manage litigation cases handled by the firm.

Value to Clients

"My experience running my own firm and having a general practice for several years has given me a big picture perspective. That experience helps me understand how clients' businesses work and gives me the ability to tailor their legal services."

Outside the Office

Jeremiah runs and travels in his spare time.
