Overview

Rhonda Reid is a paralegal in the foreclosures and debt recovery area. Rhonda joined Field Law in 1988 and held various support roles working with lawyers in various litigation areas before moving to the Foreclosure and Collections Department as a paralegal. In addition to mortgage foreclosure and unsecured debt collection work for national banks and other lenders, Rhonda has several years' experience in condominium collections.

Value to Clients

Rhonda has an extensive background in the preparation of all correspondence and pleadings required to move files along from start to finish, thus ensuring that clients receive value for the services provided. Her experience includes the coordination of property management services and the submission of claims to mortgage insurers.

Outside the Office

In her free time Rhonda enjoys reading, gardening and travelling.
